| 2. Sanjeeva Balasuriya was a great calc teacher, I felt prepared for all the classes and most of the tests. He showed great enthusiasm for the subject and his bubbly, excitement drew all the students in and was always engaging with the students. | Sun, Dec 12, 2010 12:05 PM | Find... |
| 3. Sanji is a great math teacher. Seriously, I told my friends to take the calc course with him next semester, but it does not look like he is teaching one. | Fri, Dec 10, 2010 12:24 AM | Find... |
| 4. I have enjoyed Calculus I this semester. Sanji is a great instructor who takes the time to thoroughly explain the material and answer any questions students may have. Tests, assignments, and homework were all very fair and I have been able to gain a great understanding of calculus through this course. | Thu, Dec 9, 2010 11:43 AM | Find... |
| 5. I think that Sanji was a very good instructor for a course that can be difficult to teach and moves very quickly. I'm not sure if I understand, however, why he had a grader for our problem sets, when he graded the exams himself. The grader graded differently than him, so I'm not sure if that was fair, because I didn't know what to expect grading wise. | Thu, Dec 9, 2010 12:35 AM | Find... |
| 6. I enjoyed Sanji's enthusiasm for the course. He made learning about calculus interesting and exciting. He would state questions about the material that we were thinking in our heads and then answer them with enthusiasm, allowing for the information to really sink in. He encouraged class participation, and everyone responded by volunteering their input or ideas, without fear of them being incorrect or being ridiculed. | Wed, Dec 8, 2010 4:22 PM | Find... |
| 7. Really excellent class and Sanji is a great teacher! | Wed, Dec 8, 2010 1:50 PM | Find... |
| 8. Amazing professor! | Wed, Dec 8, 2010 1:30 PM | Find... |
