1	Sanji is one of the best professors I've had at Conn. During class his goal was definitely to make sure that we understood the material and not just to put as much material on the board as possible. I feel like I was able to keep up with the content and never felt overwhelmed. I hope to take more classes with him in the future.
1	The course covers a lot of material, and sometimes it is hard to keep up. the instructor is very helpful answering questions and meeting outside of class. I wished the homework's were graded because that would provide further motivation.
1	I felt that there was a bit of a disconnect between the homework and the quizzes. I would completely understand the homework and do well on it, but not necessarily do well on the quizzes. It probably would have been helpful to have one or two more example problems in class, especially if they were similar to the types of questions seen on the quizzes.
1	I really liked the enthusiasm that the professor had and his willingness to answer questions. The material was sometimes difficult but he is happy to break it down simply to clarify.
1	I think Sanji is an excellent professor and Im sad that he wont be here next year! His explanations are clear and I learned a lot this year!
